

As a producer, I give you the rights to freely use all my beats released as compilations from the "Untagged Instrumentals" series. This means that you have the rights to create your own compositions based on them, publish them on all major platforms and on physical media, like CD. My beats are also allowed to be played live.

A necessary condition is that my authorship must be recognized during distribution, through the royalties splitting.

Use my email aliasproducer@gmail.com to share 30% of royalties with me through distributors such as Distrokid, Landr etc.

You are also required to tag me when posting songs on YouTube with "@prodbyalias" in the title.
